- 1 5 rue de Berbis : Former Berbis's mansion. 17th century front in pink stone from Moissey (quarry in Jura).
- 2 6 rue des Halles : Old house with a stair turret of the 15th century.
- 3 Arsenal (Listed Building) : The entrances have decorated pediments with decorative arms. Built in 1689 by Vauban to make barrels. One of the buildings is nowadays used for the market (friday morning). The wheelwright building and the big forges are used as annexes by the high school. The sculpture of Jacques Perreaut represents the town's fortifications. It was put here in 2007, for the three-hundredth anniversary of Vauban's death.
- 4 1 rue Carnot : 1592 decorated porch.
- 5 2 bis rue Carnot : Jehan de la Croix's mansion (Listed Building) : Former artillery administration. Inside, beautiful spiral staircase in a turret of the 15th century.
- 6 4 rue Carnot : 1607 house, the porch is decorated with animals and flowers with a grotesque mask.
- 7 Royal Front Door (Listed Building) : built at the end of the 17th century by the Count of Aspremont who led the fortifications works of the town from 1673. The floor of the main pavilion was added in 1717.
> Go round the door. Decorative arms around the royal's blazon overcome the main entrance
- 8 Tower of the Sign (Listed Building) : former surrounding wall tower, strengthened during the Renaissance Period. It is decorated with a salamander, emblem of François 1^{er}, king of France.
- 9 10 RI Square : Bonaparte Quarter, barracks. The three buildings-blocks (façades built with the pink stone from Moissey – Jura) date from 1759-1763. Napoléon Bonaparte, second lieutenant in the « Régiment de la Fère » and student at the artillery school of Auxonne stayed here from 1788 to 1791 during 2 periods interrupted by leaves of absence. The second room in which Bonaparte lived is preserved in the 2nd floor of the Pavillon de la Ville.
(Visits are subjected to authorizations)

10

Boulevard du 1^{er} RAD et de Gembloux : Belvoir Tower, 14th century former surrounding wall tower, strengthened later.

11

Porte de Comté (Listed Building) : former east entrance of the town built in 1503 and kept in the 17th century fortifications. On every side, old grantings.
> Cross « Boulevard Pasteur » to the Hôtel de Ville car park.

12

Bandstand : built in stone and cast iron in 1901 by Maison Blairon de Charleville and, at that time, erected in the garden, behind the town hall.

13

Place d'Armes : Townhall, former dwelling of the Dukes of Burgundy. At the back, opening of the 15th century. Indoor, stairs Louis XIII (to visit the stairs; ask at the reception desk of the town hall). The façade was rebuilt in the 19th century by Phal-Blando, architect in Auxonne.

14

41 place d'Armes : 18th century wooden stairs with twisted balusters originally leading to two houses. The right one was walled up.

15

9 rue de la Paix : 1613 porch.

16

2 rue de la Paix : Former Bankruptcy court. Mansion built in the 15th century. Its façade has been rebuilt in the 18th century. Former Bailiwick court.

17

4 rue de la Paix : Staircase in the courtyard with galleries and wooden twisted balusters, architecture widespread in the town center. In front, beautiful door in the gothic-renaissance style.

18

Place d'Armes : Bonaparte statue in cast bronze, sculpted by François Jouffroy in 1857. It was erected by inhabitants of Auxonne to commemorate Bonaparte's two stays (1788-1789 and 1791).

CAVEAU

19 Place d'Armes : Notre Dame's Church (Listed Building), gothic edifice. The south tower and southerner transept are the oldest parts (end of the 12th century or beginning of the 13th century). The rest was built in the 13th and 14th centuries; the porch was added in 1516. The whole building was restored in the 19th century.

> Enter through the south great door, near the Bonaparte statue

Inside :

- Organs made by François Callinet in 1789 and restored in 1997 (Listed Building).

- Saint Antoine, polychrome statue from the end of the 15th century (Listed Building).

- Christ from the beginning of the 16th century (Listed Building).

Both statues are in the 1st chapel, on the left of the main entrance.

- Pulpit in pink marble of Sampans (Jura), about 1555 (Listed Building).

- Eagle lectern in cast bronze, 1562 (Listed Building).

- Virgin mother – said Virgin with grapes – attributed to Claus de Werve about 1415/1420 (Listed Building).

- Virgin mother, 15th century, formerly emplaced on the façade of the Church.

Both statues are in the right apsidal chapel

- 16th century wall painting of Saint Hubert on the fifth pillar of the nave, near the south entrance.

20 31 Place d'Armes : half-timbered house of the 16th century, covered gallery at the ground floor (Listed Building).

21 Passage Xavier Girault : Library, reading room of 1850. Old collection, confiscated during the French Revolution.

(Library close on Monday)

> Take the passage and cross Antoine Masson street.

22 1 rue Davot : picturesque half-timbered house from the beginning of the 17th century.

23 19 rue Colonel Denfert : The old Ursuline Convent, buildings from the 17th and 18th centuries. The façade of the chapel, built by the architect Antoine dates from to 1758.

- 24 5 rue Colonel Denfert : Hospital, rebuilt in the 19th century. Chapel of the 18th century.
- 25 Rue du Château : Castle (Listed Building) erected in 1479 by the king Louis XI, after the Burgundy annexation. In the courtyard, on the right, the Governor's mansion and barracks of the 16th century; Vauban's barracks on the left.
> leave the castle
- 26 Rue du château : former Butchery of 1842, decorated with a cow head.
> From the towpath, on the left, a view of the ancient dam next to the railway bridge and on the right, a view of the « Pont de France ».
- 27 Dam : built in the 19th century from the plan of the engineer POIRÉ, manual dam with wooden needle and small closures, 220m long, nowadays completed by an automated one.
- 28 Bridge over the Saône river : called « Pont de France ». The medieval bridge was repaired several times. The new bridge dates from 1829. The wooden deck was substituted in 1879 by a roof-deck. The bridge was rebuilt after the Second World War.
> Leave the towpath, cross « Rue du château » and take « Rue du port »
- 29 8 rue du Docteur Gaston Roussel : House with a cartouche of 1584.
